Wedding Planning in Melbourne, VIC It takes on average over 250 hours to plan a wedding. [That's a heckload of hours...but it's true]. After all the googling, phone calling, appointment taking, decision making, food and wine tasting (yum!), spreadsheet building, more decision making, credit card swiping, run sheet producing, rehearsal managing, people herding, you still have to have enough sanity, energy and excitement for the wedding day itself! So we thought be better add another option to our already pretty schmick event design + styling service... wedding planning. If you choose to add our wedding planning service to we'll have a dedicated planner guide you from start to finish and make sure everything that's important to you has been looked after. So kick back enjoy your engagement and let us take it from here. A lot of our events involve pretty intense setting up, it's all part and parcel of designing and building something from the ground up... But when you have plenty of creative freedom, a love for the bride and groom, a blank canvas (literally!) and three days in 45-degree heat... you know the result has to be pretty special! Armed with lights, flowers, furniture, ladders, our trusty tool box, tubs of sun cream and an eager crew, we brought the idea to life. Our camera shy couple don't make an appearance, but a video in our website (thanks to Humdrum Films) is a behind the scenes look into our set up of their magical day.
