Restaurant in Sydney, NSW The Spice House is the district's newest function space. Nestled amidst Chippendale's historic row of terraces, this upstairs space offers three cozy rooms and a balcony, each bursting with personality and adorned with Asian street art. Follow the fiery red dragon up the stairs to experience the spicy flavor of Kensington Street. These rooms set the mood for intimate dinner and drinks shared between close friends. Don't be fooled by this terrace's unassuming exterior. Invite your friends to share in the seductive hum that spills from the graffitied walls of this gem in the rough. Let there be nothing formal about this dining experience. In partnership with our Spice Alley vendors, charges per head start at $25. Private waitstaff can be arranged for an additional fee. Entertainment can also be arranged to suit the occasion. Our largest room buzzes like Tokyo at midnight. The perfect setting for your casual banquet or gathering. This room seats 25 people. Imagine you are in one of Hong Kong's cozy small bars, nestled in with a group of friends and some steaming dumplings, watching the city flurry. This cosy room is perfect for an intimate 10 person gathering. This room is reminiscent of Bangkok's most popular market. Watch the lively Kensington Street bustle below from your private window. Ideal for a close get-together of 10 people seated.
