Cooking School in Swan Reach, VIC Culinaire Cooking School first opened it's doors in 2003 with Chef Christiane Philip at the helm together with her husband John. After many years of honing her skill both in Europe and Australia. Christiane recognised a need for a cooking school with a hands-on approach that taught students the fundamentals of cookery, rather than attending demonstration classes. A herb and kitchen garden was then planted out to supply the school with fresh produce for the classes and workshops. and offers a personal approach with only 8 students per class or workshop ensures maximum learning. The cooking school has grown to the well-known inspirational and exciting experience it is today... a first class establishment now also housing a gift shop and conducting gourmet food tours. Our classes and workshops encompass a wide range of exciting subjects for you to choose from. We provide everything during the classes and workshops. Come with a group or alone... we will make you very welcome. Our gift shop is filled with preserves made right here in our kitchen from our seasonal garden produce. Need a special gift? We have a great selection from all over the world. Our latest book is Nazeema's Kerala Kitchen. South Indian Cuisine and is available now. Coming soon will be 'My Culinary Journeys' and 'Provedores of East Gippsland'.
