Bed & Breakfast in Alice Springs, NT Ever thought that staying in the outback and getting close to nature could be done in the comfort of your own sofa? Well it can be, only here at Bond Springs Outback Retreat. Located only 20 minutes north of Alice Springs, Bond Springs Outback Retreat is nestled in the picturesque MacDonnell Ranges. It is situated on family owned cattle property Bond Springs Station. Our business was established in 1988, Bond Springs Outback Retreat offers bed & breakfast and self-contained accommodation. We aim to offer one of the best rural accommodations available to the visitors coming to Alice Spring, but close enough to the city in order for them to enjoy urban life if they want to. Laura, Ben and their son Joe invite you to come and stay at Bond Springs, offering the chance to learn about the history of the station through a guided walking tour of the historic homestead, experience the central Australian outback through flora, fauna or take a break from often a busy travel schedule in our relaxing and calming surroundings. Bond Springs offers a great self-drive destination, as we are close to Alice Springs so you are close enough to explore the surrounding area and landscape of the Red Centre as well as the beautiful landscapes of central Australia.
