School in Brisbane, QLD Brisbane Grammar School is a non-selective independent day and boarding school for boys located on a wonderfully landscaped and heritage listed site on the edge of Brisbane's CBD. It now caters for about 1700 boys in Years 5 to 12. The School has two sections on its Gregory Terrace campus – Years 5 to 8 (the Middle School) and Years 9 to 12. These operate in an integrated manner and provide a seamless transition from Year 8 into Year 9, while at the same time providing an educational environment which is tailored to the needs of the particular age groups housed in each section of the School. The predominant aim of the School is to provide its students with a set of experiences that will promote the development of attitudes, skills and a knowledge base which will serve as a foundation for students' critical intelligence, imaginative and creative powers, effective communication and the capacity and enthusiasm for independent lifelong learning. All three core school programs – academic, extracurricular and student welfare – are designed to promote the development and extension of the personal character and talents of the students and the nurturing of a strong sense of service, community, leadership and loyalty to others. The School is a member of the Queensland Great Public Schools (GPS) Association and as such is one of nine schools in Brisbane and surrounds which, as an association, provide opportunities for students in Years 5 to 12 to participate in fifteen different sports and activities during the year. In addition to the external sporting and activities program, the School also maintains an extensive cultural program across music, drama and art, an individual athletic development program, and a diverse range of clubs and activities designed to give the students the opportunity to participate with other students and enjoy the fellowship and camaraderie which results from students working and training together as well as developing their specific talents, skills and
