

University of New South Wales

UNSW
SYDNEY

Sydney, NSW 2052
Australia

Phone: 61 2 9385 1000

University in Sydney NSW University of New South Wales is a major public research university and is widely regarded as one of the country's leading universities. This popular university offers broad range and high quality of our teaching programs. Their excellent teaching gains strength and currency from our research activities, strong industry links and our international nature. UNSW has a strong regional and global engagement. Partnerships with both local and global communities allow UNSW to share knowledge, debate and research outcomes. UNSW's public events include concert performances, open days and public forums on issues such as the environment, healthcare and global politics. Established in 1949 with a unique focus on the scientific, technological and professional disciplines, UNSW is a leading Australian university committed to making a difference through pioneering research and preparing the next generation of talented global citizens for career success. UNSW has a proud tradition of sustained innovation, focusing on areas critical to our future – from climate change and renewable energies to lifesaving medical treatments and breakthrough technologies. In the social sciences, UNSW research informs policy and expert commentary in key issues facing society ranging from human rights and constitutional recognition of Indigenous Australians to public health and population ageing.

Visit Website
Send Message
Email Friend

