Park in Kununurra, WA El Questro Wilderness Park is located in the East Kimberley region of Western Australia. From Kununurra, we are just 110 kilometres west on mostly sealed roads, 58 km on the Great Northern Highway towards Wyndham, 36 km on the Gibb River Road and the remaining 16 km on a gravel and sometimes corrugated driveway to the Park. Regarded as one of the great Australian 4WD adventures, the Gibb River Road is now sealed from Kununurra to the entrances of both Emma Gorge and El Questro Station, with access to the resorts on gravel driveways. El Questro Wilderness Park is located in the east Kimberley, and extends for approximately 80 kilometres north-south and 60 km east-west, totalling one million acres in size. Its landscape offers outstanding diversity - from rugged sandstone ranges and broad tidal flats, to rainforest pockets, gorges and permanent waterfalls. El Questro Wilderness Park is a unique place, where you'll feel a sense of adventure at every turn. El Questro Wilderness Park boasts four major river systems - from fresh water springs to the lazy salt-water estuaries in the northern part of the property. Here you'll find an abundance of animals, fish and bird life congregating near rivers and waterholes. Go barramundi fishing, set out on a horse trek, or explore remote areas by helicopter that only a lucky few have ever seen. Please be advised most tours depart from The Station. Guests staying at Emma Gorge Resort will need to drive or transfer to The Station.
