We provide solutions, not just machinery. We have the knowledge, expertise and innovative vision to allow your business to perform as efficiently as possible.

We combine world class machinery and ingredients with product development and process design to give your business an end to end solution. CBS Foodtech helps meat and food processing businesses thrive and prosper.

CBS Foodtech offers a fully functional Machine & Product Test Facility that allows us to demonstrate the use of machinery and processing techniques. We are able to actively test ingredients for function and yield, and produce products from concept to production.

Our Machine & Product Test Facility is available to customers who wish to test, develop and plan their next project, whether it's the justification for a new machine, or developing your next big product line we have the ultimate mix of machinery, ingredients and product knowledge in the one facility. CBS Foodtech provides unparalleled solutions to food manufacturers of all sizes. Equipped with commercial fridges and freezers, interstate customers can pre send product ready for their arrival or the demonstration can be videotaped and sent back for viewing. Of course on request demonstrations can be performed at customers premises.
