Restaurant in Central Coast, NSW Ninety minutes' drive north of Sydney (or a 30-minute ferry ride from Palm Beach to Wagstaffe), is stunning Hardys Bay and Hardys Bay Club. Backing onto a natural waterfall and Bouddi National Park, surrounded by kookaburras, king parrots, and the occasional brush turkey, the club has been in this spot for over 40 years and is a beautiful, old building with a long deck and outdoor pergola. Every week we have hand-picked an eclectic mix of artists from the weekly Sunday Jam sessions to local and national tours on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. We think we might be the only RSL club in NSW without them. We like to offer a family-friendly atmosphere with live music and great conversation. We're a small local business without any connections to bigger clubs, and we recognize the importance of supporting other local businesses. We buy our coffee from Central Coast coffee roaster Loo Loo's, our oysters from Ferg, the local oyster farmer, and have beers from brewers Six Strings Brewery, and Block 'n' Tackle just down the road, as well as Young Henrys on tap. From our hand-made wedding centerpieces to tables made from fence palings, and vases, stools and decorations from recycled materials, we try to limit the amount we throw away or buy brand-new. Bistro 14 is passionate about locally-sourced fresh food made from scratch. We pride ourselves on our beautiful, quality food made with real ingredients. So drop in for lunch, dinner or an afternoon drink; hold your next function with us; or dance the night away to any of our great live acts.
