University in Swan Hill, VIC SuniTAFE's Swan Hill Campus has a large new trades wing, with a focus on heavy automotive and mechanical engineering. It also has a new nursing lab, an energy efficient demonstration house and a Deakin Learning Centre affiliated with Deakin University. The campus is next door to Barry Stegall Park. The Swan Hill region is home to everything that is wonderful in life. A region rich in culture, bathed in sunshine, blessed with a bounty of delicious local produce and home to great dining, wine and shopping. SuniTAFE is the key provider of heavy automotive training for regional Victoria. The highly skilled staff will assist students in making their heavy automotive career dreams a reality. Students have access to state of the art learning technologies and equipment to support their training at the Swan Hill Campus. This is complemented by a support network to ensure students are given every opportunity to reach their potential in heavy automotive. The extensive training facilities enhance the reputation and ability for SuniTAFE to provide some of the best facilities in Victoria with the support of local industry equipment. We also offer courses and degree-certificates in hospitality and tourism, education, business and administration and even community services and health related careers and diplomas.
